1. LICENSE GRANT

The Producer grants the Artist an exclusive, worldwide license for an indefinite term to use the Beat identified in this Agreement, subject to its terms. Once payment is received and this Agreement is completed, the Producer will no longer grant new licenses for the Beat. Any valid non-exclusive licenses granted before this exclusive license remain in effect. The Producer retains ownership of the Beat except for the rights expressly granted herein.

2. SCOPE AND USAGE LIMITS

The Beat may be used to create a musical recording containing original contributions from the Artist, subject to the following limits:

- Distribution: Unlimited copies (physical and/or digital).
- Audio streams: Unlimited online audio streams.
- Music videos: Unlimited.
- For-profit live performances: Permitted.
- Radio broadcasting: Unlimited radio stations.
- Delivery: MP3, WAV, and stems; no project files.

The limits above are an essential part of this license. To exceed them, the Artist must obtain an expanded license or written authorization from the Producer before exceeding any limit.

3. RESTRICTIONS

The Artist may not: (a) resell, transfer, or sublicense the Beat separately; (b) distribute the Beat in its original form without substantial modification, such as adding vocals or other original elements; (c) claim to be the sole author of the instrumental composition or register the Beat as their own composition; (d) include it in sample packs, NFTs, or equivalent products; or (e) use it unlawfully, deceptively, discriminatorily, or in a manner that infringes third-party rights.

The Artist may not register the Beat or a recording containing it in Content ID, audio fingerprinting, digital rights management, or automated claim systems that could generate claims against other authorized licensees. If such a claim occurs, the Artist must promptly remove it after written notice from the Producer.

4. OWNERSHIP AND CREDITS

The Producer retains the rights to the Beat and its instrumental composition, except for the usage rights expressly granted. The Artist retains rights to the Artist's original contributions, such as lyrics, melodies, or performances, and to the final recording to the extent applicable, subject to the shares and obligations in this Agreement. Every release must include the credit "Prod. by [Producer's artist name]" in metadata, descriptions, and other customary credit locations.

7. WARRANTIES

The Producer represents, to the best of the Producer's knowledge, that the Producer is the author or lawful rights holder of the Beat and that its authorized use does not infringe third-party rights. If third-party material was incorporated, the Producer must have the required authorization. The Artist agrees to use the Beat in compliance with applicable law and this Agreement.

8. BREACH AND TERMINATION

Use outside the agreed limits constitutes a breach. The non-breaching party may provide written notice and allow ten (10) days to remedy the breach where curable, without prejudice to any legal remedies available.
